

SHE'S IN LOVE

SYNOPSIS

A beautiful, fun romantic story of a young girl, searching for her way...

Think "Clueless" and "American Pie". "She's In Love" is the story of Sirena, a bright teenage girl, champion on her high school swim team, and the pride and joy of her widowed father (Edward James Olmos, star of "Selena" and "Stand and Deliver"). Her seemingly perfect life is turned upside down by the arrival Minerva (Maria Conchita Alonso, star of "Predator" and "The Running Man"), a sexy social climber who intends to marry Sirena's father, and by a handsome, rebellious new transfer student named Sol. The poor neighborhood that Sol lives in seems a world away from the comfortable Beverly Hills home of Sirena.

Their differences could tear two families apart.

An exciting new twist on a beloved classic tale, "She's In Love" puts a fresh spin on the tale of a teenager making the difficult transition from girl to young womanhood. The young swimmer finds herself trapped by pressures from her swim coach, a clash between her Father and boyfriend, and memories of the mother she lost as a child. To make matters worse, Sirena's future evil stepmother plans to ship her off to boarding school once she weds Sirena's father in a ceremony designed by a flamboyant wedding planner (played by comedy sensation Pauly Shore, star of "Encino Man" and "Son-In-Law").

The film is filled with colorful characters, including the potential step grandmother who is the original social climber; and the warm and very attractive swim coach, who would be an ideal match for Sirena's father. When Sirena's father forbids her from seeing Sol, Sirena rebels by quitting the swim team and embarking on a series of adventures with her wacky girlfriends. But after all of the fun and mischief, Sirena realizes what is truly important in her life is family. With Sol's help, Sirena is recharged and ready to win as she rejoins the swim team and trains for the championship race, truly earning her nickname, "The Little Mermaid". Together, with her wisecracking little brother, they hatch a plan to save their father and expose the wicked Minerva's true nature during a hilarious and outrageous wedding climax.

In the modern tradition of teen coming-of-age movies. "She's In Love" is an instant classic for a new generation.
